student government proves effective

Highlighting the Fall Semester of student government were Student Court, headed by Chief Justice Bill Sibbett, and the Student Body Officers under the guidance of John Pola.

Doing away with the traditional business meetings was the main concern of the officers during this fall. To break monotony, there were skits and other unusual things done by the officers to entertain their students.

President Pola's cabinet consisted of Mary Gallagher, vice-president, Gloria Alsing, recording secretary, John Henry, financial secretary, and Jean Van Der Haeghen, head yell-leader.

Providing justice for the students is the job of Student Court. Deciding guilt or not is the task of judges Richard Ambrose, Alan Mitchell, Carol Eaton, Pam Clark and alternates Kelly Loera and Terry Mitchel. Meetings were held Wednesday afternoons in the Student Council Room.

To prepare youth for their future, student government is a helpful aid. Taking on aspects of life they will soon encounter proves to be very successful.

Promoting spirit for the fall sports was Head Yell Leader, Jean Van Der Haeghen.

changes brought about by spring

Elected for the Spring semester and residing over the student body was President John Johnson. His cabinet members consisted of Vice-President Lynn Goodman, Recording Secretary Pat Green, Financial Secretary Trey Springer, and Head Yell-leader Bobbie Friley.

Each officer has his individual duties as well as working as a team. They strive together to bring the student body more united, and deserve a lot of credit for organizing things with what little time they are given.

There was a change brought about in the political picture this year when Mark Nahnsen decided to run as a write-in candidate. Although Mark wasn't allowed to make a speech on stage, he won the people's votes by having music at noon and dressing in a purple "Uncle Sam" outfit. But in the end tradition at A.H.S. won out. Conventional John Johnson won for President.

Reviewing the cases brought before them by the Board of Control, was Spring Student Court. Gary Greenwood served as Chief Justice along with the other presiding judges. These students jobs are to set punishment for wrong doings committed during the school day, on the campus or at a student meeting.

Confusion has been aroused as to the interpretation of the Constitution. This task is also performed by Student Court.

Successfully fulfilling the office of Head Yell-leader and Financial Secretary were Bobbie Friley and Trey Springer

Speaker Pam Jones led the hard working Spring Ad Board into the final semester of the year.

Many committees were formed to help make various changes at Alameda High. A Revision Committee was set up to go over the school's constitution and make necessary changes and improvements. More than anything, this committee was concerned with the problems of write-ins in student elections.

Last year Pat Potter, our former student body president, gave the suggestion for a student lounge. A committee was set up to put the idea through and find a place where students could gather after class or on a free period.

Members of the Spring Men and Women's Board of Control kept students in line in the final semester. Led by Women's Chief Counselor, Nancy Brown, and Men's Chief Counselor, Mike Nash, the members kept a watchful eye on delinquent students. Board of Control members do not only keep order at A.H.S., but also offer their time and services at sport banquets, Parent's Night, and other after school functions.

Meetings were held weekly in the Student Council room and were attended not only by the members, but also by advisors Mrs. Hoeksema and Mr. Healy.

Spectators enjoyed slave day more than the participants.

Spirit was aroused during Homecoming Week for the San Leandro football game by the combined efforts of Ad-Board and Pep Club.

The week got off to a smashing beginning with the lunch time egg toss held in the boys P.E. yard. Messy winners Nancy Beddingfield and Bill Heath received complimentary tickets to the class of 71's Senior Play as a reward for their courage.

Tuesday and Wednesday noon hours were spent on the slave auction. Student Body President John Pola acted as auctioneer raffling off his officers, yell leaders, pom-pom girls and class presidents. He also sold for the highest price of $23.45 to two masters expecting to get their moneys worth.

The Freshman class claimed the title of the competition orange pass on Thursday.

Friday started very early for some slaves and their masters. Dressed in various costumes, slaves performed their master's every wish. The exchange of the yell leaders and pom-pon girls at the noon rally helped to build excitement toward the afternoon game.

Gloria Alsing was crowned queen at half-time. Her court consisted of Laurie Isaac, Jodi Beldon, Laura Nelson, and Sherrie Archibald.

Actively supporting Hornet athletes, the yell-leaders and pom-pon girls attended basketball games, baseball games, swim meets and track meets. Rallies were held weekly in order to promote spirit for these events.

Nadine Cross, Diane Fertado, Mitzi Ikeda, Betsy Parker and alternate Nancy Pulley aided head yell-leader Bobbie Friley in promoting spirit at games and rallies. Dressed in gold skirts and vests spring yell-leaders provided a delightful change in uniform from the traditional sweaters.

Assisting head pom-pon girl Connie Kleinhans were Nancy English, Christa Joseph, Jeanette Maurice, Terry Maze, Sue McAfee, Renie Richina and alternate Lynn Janvier. Due to a car accident Christa Joseph was temporarily forced to quit the line. Nancy Harrington served as alternate during her absence. Pom-pon girls also had a change in uniform style. They wore white and gold unwaisted dresses and had no block A's.

Usually lack of enthusiasm in spring activities occurs in the spring semester. The goal of the spring lines was to arouse interest in the students to prevent this from happening.

french comedy, tartuffe

was an extra help at all rehearsals

Tartuffe, a French comedy was performed by Alameda High School's students for the 1971 All School Play. Moliere's original script was translated to English by Richard Wilbur.

It's central character is a rich bourgeois named Orgon, who in middle age has become a bigot and prude. By affecting sanctity, Tartuffe, a wily opportunist and swindler, gains complete ascendancy over Orgon, who not only makes over his fortune but offers his daughter in marriage to his "spiritual" master. Only when he actually witnesses Tartuffe's attempt to seduce his wife does Orgon come to his senses.

Unlike other plays previously performed here, this one was written in rhyme. This aided the actors in memorizing lines and gave them more time to perfect other necessary dramatic techniques.

Clyde Taff, student director, attended all rehearsals as an extra help to drama instructor, Mr. Lloyd Sisler.Carrying out the publicity and other tasks needed for a play were Cheryl O'Brien and Mike Reynolds, manager and co-manager respectively.

Expressing the spirit and joyous feelings of the holidays was Alameda High School's 32nd annual Christmas Pageant, "The Joyous Times". The pageant was written and directed by dramatics teacher Mr. Lloyd Sisler. Rita French, senior at A.H.S., assisted him as student director

A different pageant was presented this year to entertain its audiences. Each month of the year was represented by holidays in that month or an occasion associated with that month. Alameda High's dance, drama, and music classes coordinated in doing the skits, dancing, songs, and pantomimes. The pageant was well received by the audiences and it ended with the feelings of Christmas brought out in the traditional Nativity scene

Accompaning the various scenes and dancers was the orchestra directed by Mr. Carlton Hanson and Mr. Demophile Rateaver. Mrs. Maria Molnar directed the dance department

Students at Alameda High School extended a warm welcome to their new American Field Service exchange student Celia Brosio. Celia, a native of Buenos Aires, Argentina, resided with the Paul Peak family. Marty Peak, Celia's new American "sister", attended one class with her, and along with many other students, helped Celia get better acquainted with her new surroundings.

Getting involved in the events of Alameda High School was not a problem with Celia. Among her many activities, the exchange student joined "S" Club, Spanish Club, and was appointed honorary member of the Womens Board of Control.

Celia's out of school activities included a trip to the city of San Francisco, camping with the Peak family in Yosemite, and a two week Christmas vacation to Mexico City.

The city of Alameda was well-represented this summer when the American Field Service student, Janet Broughton, traveled to Bogota, the capital city of Colombia. Janet spent the summer with a Colombian family as a "daughter". Home life was quite different from that of the United States; girls are more protected and are not permitted to do as many things as the girls here

Janet attended an all girl parochial school with her "sister" Esperanza. Janet, a senior at Alameda High, was placed in the tenth grade at Bogota.

vocalists perform for school and city

Mr. Demophile Rateaver took the place of Mrs. Carol Cederleaf this year in heading the vocal groups of Alameda High School. Mr. Rateaver led Girls' Glee, Vocal Ensemble, Choir, and Concert Chorale in performing at numerous school and community programs.

Their new director was well qualified to head the vocal groups. Mr. Rateaver was a veteran of the Broadway stage, Robert Shaw Chorale, made concert tours all over Europe, Mexico, and the United States, and also appeared on national television.

Field trips made by the groups helped them understand all types of music. Included in the list to be seen were musicals, concerts, and operas.

Vocal activities outside of the school included important events such as: singing Christmas carols at downtown stores, the Christmas Pageant, the Spring Concert, and singing at the important clubs in Alameda.

It is to be reminded that when the singing groups do perform, it is done only for the benefit of student experience; no monetary transactions are involved.

Music has always played an important part to create the moods. The orchestra and Pep Band directed by Mr. Carlton Hanson and Mr. D. A. Vinciguerra helped to make these moods come through at various school activities.

The bands main function is to perform at student body meeting, football and basketball games. Highlighting the football games was the band dressed in gold jackets marching down Walnut St. to Thompson Field. R.O.T.C. lead the way followed by the yelleaders and pom-pon girls and majorettes. The band then marched on the field for the Star Spangled Banner and the pledge to the flag. Brian O'Toole was their student director this year

The orchestra performed at the Holiday Pageant and added glamour to the show, also the Senior Play and the All School Play. The annual Spring Concert was the big event of the year. The hard work and patience of Sue Ibarolle proved to be well worth it as student director and the whole orchestra in their fine performance.

In an effort to cut the cost of the paper, the size of each page was reduced by two inches.

Annual features included, Editorials, From My Binder, Students Speak, and Stars Tell It Like It Is. A new feature was added entitled, Fadda Confessor (a love lorn column). This column was devised to help answer the students questions to troubled love life, society, popularity, parents, and teachers. The most generally asked questions and some of the unusual ones will be printed along with advise.

Business Manager, Bev Watkins and her co-workers, Greg Kaufman, Laurel Yeates, and Debbie Roschitsch comprised the business staff which is responsible for securing the ads which finance the paper.

mr. donald bell retires after 37 years

After successfully fulfilling 37 years in the teaching career, Mr. Donald Bell will be retiring.

Rounding out a wide experienced life, Mr. Bell has completed four successful years as Alameda High School's principal. In this short time, a deep admiration has arisen among the entire school for it's distinguished leader. Though regreting to leave his career at the age of 60, Mr. Bell feels it's his turn to relax now. His future plans include traveling to Europe and remaining active in community affairs.

University of California at Berkeley issued Mr. Bells' A. B. and M. A. degrees. He then did graduate work at Stanford, San Francisco State and University of California. After completing his education, Mr. Bell began at McFarland High School his teaching career. He entered the AHS's faculty as a football coach in 1941 for a year. At that year's conclusion, he moved in to the vice-principal's opening for 3 years. Next he served as Encinal's principal until 1967 when he returned to AHS as its' principal.

In their gratitude for the fine accomplishments Mr. Bell has made throughout his career, the Acorn Staff would like to thank him and wishes him the best wishes in his future plans.

Mrs. Hoeksema confers with exchange student Celia Brosio.

Maintaining our "Always High Standards" at Alameda High School is the job of the administration under the direction of Principal Donald Bell.

With such a task, Vice-Principal, John Healy, Dean of Students, Mr. Kenneth Biba and Vice-Principal, Mrs. Helen Hoeksema aid him by advising various student activities.

With the adoption of the new attendance system, Mr. Biba's job of attendance co-ordinator will hopefully be simplified. Now, stricter suspension laws are enforced and more students are becoming aware of his strong hand. Sponsoring the yell-leaders and pom-pon girls, Assembly Planning and Student Body Officers are some of the other assignments that accompany the job of Dean of Students.

Mrs. Hoeksema and Mr. Healy work hand-in-hand in their duties as sharing the position of Vice-Principal. Their jobs entail Board of Control, Student Court and Courtesy Board.

A student can always feel they have someone to help them in their troubles in school, and home. Listening and talking with the student could omit some problems that are unnecessary. Another of the duties of the Vice-Principal's allow them to advertise all the school's activities for good promotion of the activities.

One of the most important departments at any high school is the counseling department. Alameda High Schools' staff is headed by Mr. Robert Bartley. The counseling staff consists of Mr. William Thompson, Mrs. Charlotte Howell, Mr. Alan Whyte, Mr. Ashley Jones, and Mrs. Louise Tham. Each of these people must have under their guidance a large number of counselees, each a different age, grade, environment, and personality, each requiring a different type of understanding and help.

Perhaps the two things most needed by the average high school student at this all important phase of his life are guidance, and a knowledgeable patient understanding of his problems.

Alameda High School's fine counseling department consists of men and women who have dedicated themselves to fulfilling these needs.

It is the purpose of the counseling department to help students relate their present school courses and present experiences with those of the future. Advice is also offered especially to senior students who must begin to decide what direction they wish their life to take.

For those students who prefer traditional English, this was also present on the curriculum.

With such a wide range to pick from, more pupils who have completed their required amount of the subject have returned for further education. This proves that the department has been successful in its undertakings

Courses range from Individualized Reading, which allows students an opportunity to expand their reading, to Public Speaking, enabling shy students to open up in front of friends, to Techniques of the Essay, which serves its useful purpose in other classes as well. The elective system offers only semester classes. But this enables more courses to be experienced by a person. It is only open to juniors and seniors except on teacher request

Bringing the complicated world of science to Alameda High School students is a tedious job, but successfully accomplished under the direction of department head, Mr. Robert Berges.

With increased interest in Chemistry, Mr. Gary Fenstermaker, had his job planned for him. Physiology enrollment dropped and so the extra teachers were moved to where their help would be needed most.

A favorite course of many of the pupils is Psychology. In this class, mannerisms of people are discussed. Biology was taught a little different this year. Those in Mr. John Brooks' class, during first period, experimented with college attendance. Classes were taught only three days a week but lasted for two periods. This gave students longer time to work on their laboratory assignments and hopefully increased their interest in the subject.

Other courses offered include Physics, General Science, Earth Science and Chemistry.

Mrs. Betty Tillotson

With Mrs. Betty Tillotson back, replacing last years teacher, Mrs. Lorraine Weldon, the home economics department ran smoothly all year long

Mrs. Rita Thompson led her girls in the preparation of foods. Along with meal planning the students learned many new cooking tips from their teacher

Mrs. Tillotson taught and helped her students with the fine art of sewing. The sewing classes made all the costumes for the school plays plus the holiday pageant. This service is helpful and appreciated by all Girls in the Advanced class made their annual entrances in the Make It With Wool contest sponsored by the Singer Sewing Company fine arts develops creativity

Adding the touch of completeness to the various school functions here at AHS, is the music department of Fine Arts.

Replacing Mrs. Carol Cedarleaf who is on a sabbatical, is Mr. Demophile Rateaver. He successfully arranged the silver plated globethroaters in all their activities throughout the year. The various groups include girl's glee, vocal ensemble and concert chorale.

Serving as conductor of the band and orchestra are Mr. D. A. Vinciguerra and Mr Carlton Hanson. These notorious men lead the musicians at numerous school functions such as plays, student meetings, games and musicals They also perform special concerts as a public service to the community

Drama students rehearse before showing their play to the class.

Student productions, exhibits, and meetings were given that extra touch of completeness to Alameda's curriculum by the art and drama departments

Introducing new touches to the art department this year was Mrs Inez Whitton and her new staff member Mrs. Charmaine Facchin

Students who enjoy doing creative work, art, and pottery, find an opportunity to further their interests in the classes taught by these teachers. Some of the advanced work is displayed in the case in the main hall

Senior play, all school play, Christmas pageant, and short plays were major productions of the drama departments Headed by Mr. Lloyd Sisler, the students received coaching and aid in speaking distinctly and correctly with complete relaxation and self-assurance before an audience

Education in all aspects of life is completed by the physical education department.

Young men are taught to work individually as well as in groups during classes to instill in them a competitive spirit.

Because of the lack of space and facilities close to the school, busses are used to transport boys to Lincoln Park, Wood School and Thompson Field. Various sports are offered which include baseball, basketball, football, golf and tennis.

For those who compete in interscholastic events, seventh period is used as an extra time for practice. This allowed the coaches and team to work together longer and to improve necessary skills.

Mr. Ron Pierceall was added to the staff this year. His talent was used as a track coach and aided the returning teachers in their daily work.

Introducing new activities and class ideas to the students occured in the girls' physical education department.

First Aid, dance and physical fitness programs were complimented by the addition of gymnastics. Two new teachers also joined Alameda's staff, Mrs. Carol Clymo and Mrs. Maria Molnar Interscholastic gymnastic competition was initiated under the direction of Mrs. Clymo. Girls were taught free dance, balance beam, uneven parallel bars and basic techniques.

Instructing advanced dance classes is Mrs. Molnar. Different dance styles were taught and the girls learned many new things

Student assistants aided the instructors in tasks as taking role. These girls are a great help to the teachers and the experience they receive is useful if they seek a future in education.

This year the Acorn has reserved space for three important figures in Alameda High-the librarian, the nurse, and the book room attendant. Although these people usually go unnoticed by the students, all work very hard to keep A.H.S. going strong.

Alameda High welcomed a new addition to the staff this year-Mrs. Johanna Winzenread. The new librarian's experience includes being a college, children, and a high school librarian

Mrs. Winzenread brought new ideas with her concerning the library. Structural changes were made with bookcases moved around for more space. Students are happy too-talking is allowed and now the students may make suggestions as to what new books they wish to be ordered.

Mrs. Kay Hunter, A.H.S.'s school nurse for 15 years, has the job of making sure that all students are healthy. New students and Juniors make the trip to Mrs. Hunters office for ear and eye examinations. Alameda High's nurse also takes care of students involved in minor accidents.

Mrs. Ford heads the bookroom and all that goes with it. For seven years the bookroom has run smoothly under Mrs. Ford and slight changes have been made-the room was given more cases and a variety of books are in the room. Projectionists and projectors are found in the room to help teachers with the showing of films.

Secretary Mrs. Jane Royer handles the money connected directly with the students. Her duties consist of taking care of Ad-Board money, Student Body funds, Club and class treasuries and student activities. Her services have been helpful and well appreciated.

Mrs. Helen Ford has been with the school seven years. Her job is the Text Book Clerk which also includes audio visual department. Each period she has three assistants to help distribute books and run the films. Each year she has the big job of processing new books and repairing the old ones

Fulfilling the duties of Vice-President was Bob Giomi

To run a class and plan the activities is a big job for any officer but in the senior year it takes a special something to coordinate the originality and make the final year a memorable one.

In the fall, the officers main object was to raise the final bit of money needed for the senior activities. In obtaining their goals, the senior play "Up the Down Staircase" was presented.

Spring officers got off to a big start by setting up committees to locate and plan each function

"His Lordships" restaurant was chosen for the senior banquet to be held on March 13. The luxurious Jack Tar Hotel was reserved for the evening of June 5 for the Senior Ball

Most of the spring activities were for fun and entertainment. The only money raising function was the money received from the ticket sale on the All School Play.

A problem arose with a split in the classes decision as to where the all-night party was to be held. There was a suggestion for the class to go to Disneyland, but because of the lack of interest the plans fell through. The final decision was made by the seniors to let those who wanted to go to Disneyland to do so on their own and a party in the Bay Area would be put on by the parents.

Laurie Isaac and Raycilla Sedillo were the Seniors recording and financial secretaries respectively

Welcoming all to Calvin Coolidge High School is Dr. Maxwell Clarke, principal seniors present "up the down staircase"

"Up the Down Staircase" a comedy written by Bel Kaufman was selected as the class of 71's Senior Play during the fall term.

Calvin Coolidge High School is situated in the slums of New York City and here is where the story takes place. The plot is centered around a new teacher, Miss Sylvia Barrett. She's attractive, young and eager to pass on her knowledge to her students, but obstacles prevent her. Bad teaching facilities, lack of interested students and numerous unnecessary paper work distract Sylvia and the students end up losing. In Calvin Coolidge, most of the students don't care too much about their education. To change their attitude is Sylvia's goal

J. J. McHabe, attendance co-ordinate, always has a complaint and is disliked by the students and ignored by the other teachers At first McHabe frightens Sylvia by telling her how awful kids are Later, Sylvia proves him wrong

In Sylvia's classes her students range from Harry Kagan, a stuffed shirt to Linda Rosen, who thinks of only boys to Jose Rodriguez, who silently sits in a corner. Her biggest problem to solve is Joe Ferone, who is sold against any authority

During English classes Sylvia tries to make the lessons pertain closely to the students as possible, but with no success. In the second semester suggestion boxes are installed, to the disapproval of the administration who insist she is asking for trouble

Good and bad ideas are expressed by the students which give Sylvia a clue on how to get to them

Success is reached at the beginning of her second year at Calvin Coolidge when all of her students return with eagerness to learn, including Joe Ferone

Realism was evident in this two act play. It also gave the student actors a chance to get a taste of what a teacher goes through

The cast included

ORGANIZATIONS

skiers enjoy numerous resorts

This was one of the best years for the Ski Club since it was originated in 1966 Ski Club did not have too many problems with weather conditions like they have had in the past.

There were five skiing trips taken by the Club this year. Two of which were overnights at the large resort Heavenly Valley during the months of January and March. Other trips taken were to Bear Valley in December, then they went to Sugar Bowl in February and last,another to Squaw Valley, held in April

The activities that upheld their outings was a candy sale in December They also had two car washes held at Bates and Mendoza gas stations here in Alameda in November and March Besides having money raising activities they had ski movies twice a month in Dr. Gates' room during the lunch hour for anyone's enjoyment without cost Administering the Ski Club was President Bill Sibbett, a fantastic skier. Vice President Mark Caldwell, Secretary Linda Reed, and Treasurer Karen Kakligian. Other officers were Jeff Perl, Daphne Palmer, Grace Marshall and Sue Low.

Pep Club officers express Pep Club spirit

Mrs. Carol Clymo, gymnastics teacher, was the new Pep Club advisor this year. With the reinstatement of the point system, girls interested in trying out for yell leader or pom-pon girl earned their points by supporting and attending Pep Club activities which included a sucker sale, cupcake and cookie sales at home sporting events, homecoming and spirit week activities and yell leader and pom-pon clinics.

Combining efforts with Ad-Board, Pep Club sponsored homecoming and spirit weeks. The purpose was to help create spirit for the game. The profit was divided between the two organizations.

Sue Schweitzer was the president of Pep Club. Her officers were Raycilla Sedillo, vice president; Kathy Boothby, recording secretary; Nancy Pulley, financial secretary; Judy Sedillo and Barbara Lampkins, publicity managers; Barbara Zucchi, yell leader and Nancy English, Sgt. at Arms.

Pep Club officers wore brown, gold and white plaid pants with white blouses and gold vests.

Along with the marching band, yell leaders and pom-pon girls Pep Club officers marched to the football field carrying the Alameda Banner.

With the support of the school Pep Club will always remain a necessary organization in Alameda High's future.

interact dance highlights activities

John Mullen served as president of the Interact Club. Under the guidance of Mr. Ron Piercall, faculty advisor, the Interact Club performed many beneficial services

The Interact Club started its services by cleaning the gum on Park Street They also collected money for St. Judes' hospital for leukemia

Their outstanding activity for the year was their annual dance. Tower of Power and Cookin' Mama played and it was a fantastic dance

To climax one of Interacts better years the active members planned a big party.

Aiding President John Mullen were Vice-President Rich Hessom, Treasurer Roland Stephan, Corresponding Secretary Alan Mitchell, and Sgt.-at-Arms John Johnson

Another activity that highlighted the year for the Interact Club was the Volleyball league. Interact was undefeated except for one loss to the GAA. Members of the team were Gary Eager, Andy Candelario, Roland Stephan, Bob Giomi, Steve Chavez, John Henry, John Mullen and Ray Pacovsky.

's' club projects assist community

Holding the club together are the "S" Club officers

Under the direction of President Janet Broughton, the 45 members of "S" Club accomplished many service projects this year. Helping the club along was teacher advisor Mrs. Berg and Alameda Soroptimist sponsor Miss Barbara Stevenson.

"S" Club is a nonprofit organization which provides service for the community and school. One of the outstanding activities was the traditional freshmen reception. This reception helps the new Freshmen meet their Senior sisters and learn more about the school.

Other service projects of the year included: a Thanksgiving basket given to a charity organization for older people, "The Little Sisters of the Poor", a Christmas party for the special class at Edison School, and an Oak Knoll Hospital visit to entertain the patients.

A dance was given to raise money for other community services. The name of the dance was "Blue Crystal" with the entertainment provided by "Kimberly". A fashion show was also given to benefit AHS, sucker sales and cake sales were held to help raise money for community projects.

crescendo club presents two concerts

Alameda High School's Crescendo Club is opened to any students who are interested in any type of music, with the stipulation that the student must be enrolled in some sort of music class. There is an enormous membership, since members come from orchestra, band, and vocal classes

Crescendo officers are the main governing as well as planning body of the club. The officers were Celia Cottal, President, Mike Hawks, Vice President, Evelyn Robinson, Treasurer, Terri Toole, Sheri Landreth, Charlene Dunn, and Ed Sherman. They obtain help from Mr. Vincigierra and Mr. Hanson, directors of AHS's band and orchestra

This year the two big moments for the Crescendo Club members were the Pops Concert and the annual Spring Concert, featuring all aspects of the music department

The Bulge gives a mighty try

Alameda High School's Men and Women's Block "A" Associations are basically designed for sports-minded students. Each organization is opened to any interested prospect who has excelled in some form of athletics.

Women's Block "A" worked very hard this year. Their main activity was revising the constitution. Other activities included candy sales,a joint car wash with Men's Block "A", a Tee-shirt sale, and the traditional sale of pom-pons and Hornets decales

A progressive dinner and a picnic were participated in by the organization along with a slumber party which was given for GAA

Helping along with the years activities was the fall President Barbara Elzig and the spring President Liz Echeagaray. Advisor was Miss Arelene Hoshi Lead by Randy Crawford and assisted by Advisor Mr. Dennis Hennessee Men's Block "A" was able to put on their annual dance, which was a big success.

Men's Block "A" tried something new this year, selling Hornet cushions. These cushions come in very handy when you're sitting on those hard bleachers

Spotlighting the year was the traditional Men's Block "A" vs. the Faculty basketball game. This year the Men's Block "A" defeated the Faculty, 33-28

Warming up their engines, advanced dancers prepare for take off

Change highlighted this years advanced dance class when Mrs. Marie Molnar took over as advisor. Many new dance steps were introduced in jazz, ballet, and Afro American.

The class became a club which met after school on Mondays. The purpose was to develop necessary techniques and style because of lack of time in class.

Some of the outstanding activities in which the club participated in were the Christmas Pageant and the Spring Concert.

The club consisted of fifty juniors and seniors which were selected by the try-out system. Grace, poise, and creativity where sought in determining membership.

As an extra activity members attended several different dance symposiums, where they became acquainted with new ideas in exercises and style taught by professional dancers.

Residing over the club was President Cindy Payne and her officers, Vice President, Sue Schweitzer and Secretary, Pam Jones.

In an effort to raise money for the costumes, which were used in the productions, the officers arranged for a chocolate bar and sucker sale.

An organization which gives girls the opportunity to advance in physical education and take part in various sports not offered in P.E. is the Girl's Athletic Association of Alameda High School.

Some of the fun activities of the year included several sportsdays and playdays when girls from other high schools in the bay area came to A.H.S. to participate in interschool competition. The girls also got to know each other and compare the differences in programs offered at their schools. A buffet, a Father-Daughter night, a bike hike, a ski trip and a guess the weight of the teachers contest were some of the highlights of the year

Money making activities included, candy sales, car washes, a tupperware sale, a sale of T-shirts and a carnival

Planning and managing these activities were the GAA officers. Fall President was Karen Manley, and her cabinet consisted of Andrea Elderts, Antoinette Miland, Carmen Beitia, Ann Golonka, and Kathy Legino Relieving these girls in the spring semester were President Roberta Chledek and her fellow officers Pat Roberts, Joanne Mikami, Sue Low, Connie Dubbs, and Debbie Cirmelli. Advisor for GAA is Miss Diane Davis.

scholarship given by honor societies

Students who worked hard to gain a high academic standing at Alameda High School were recognized by two clubs, CSF and Star and Key

A high grade point average is required to belong to CSF. So CSF members provide a free tutoring service for Alameda High students who need help with their subjects

For one of many field trips, CSF went to California State College at Hayward This trip helped widen the knowledge of the college bound members, aiding them in choosing an institution in which to further their education beyond high school

Star and Key members enjoyed their early Spring visit to the new Alameda Junior College. The members viewed the daily life of a typical college student A picnic to Redwood park was enjoyed by all members of Star and Key

Membership increased in CSF this year

A high grade point average was acquired by these members

Mr. Fenstermaker became the new advisor of the club

chemists revise old club

Officers for the club include Recording Secretary Shirley Snider, President Jeff Howard, and Financial Secretary Lana Smith

A new start came to the Chemistry Club this year when Mr. Fenstermaker, their new advisor, renewed the club

Activities they plan on doing include field trips and experiments after school The club was designed to improve the knowledge of chemistry. They have weekly meetings on Thursday to discuss and experiment with chemistry

During the past year, these politically minded students made Alameda High School's Model United Nations club a success

u.n. concentrates on world affairs

Model UN Club was under the capable direction of Mr. Robert Lochner. Club members this year strived to understand world conditions. Members were Ray Pacovsky, Wendy Kapchan, Kerry Jennings, Donna Slay, Sue Vinluan, Sue Overstreet, Greg Brown, Evelyn Robinson, Donna Williams, Mark Easton, Sherry VanSickle, Jeanette Wilcox, and Richard Avery.

World affairs and social conditions are the main concern of the Model UN Club, and by studying these at general conferences with other Model UN clubs Alameda's Model UN members learn more about them. At a conference each school represents a different country and world issues are discussed. They elect a senator who will represent them and speak for them at the Model UN conventions that are held various times a year. They give awards to those members who excel in the club. Those receiving these awards win trips back to Washington D. C. and study the UN in more depth

Outstanding achievements and advancements were accomplished by this very hard working organization.

linguists partake in various activities

Officers of the French Club were Edward Huie, vice-president, Cindy Molko, treasurer and Richard Werk, president

Providing interested students with extra knowledge of France and their customs is the purpose of the French Club.

Noon meetings are held in Mrs. McDonald's room, club sponsor, Here plans for future trips and activities are discussed under leadership of Richard Werk, president, Edward Huie, vice-president, Cindy Molko, treasurer, Barbara Cottrell, secretary.

A French puppet show highlighted the clubs fall activities. Other functions included a picnic, a meeting of skits and a candy sale.

Because of lack of interest, this club is losing members. Without students to carry out and encourage more students to join, its fate may be non-existence.

Martine Chamla, a foreign exchange student from sister city Santa Rosa, visited AHS for a week. She hailed from Paris, France and brought much information of the customs of her people to the club. She told wonderful stories of her life and interested all those who attended.

new and old clubs function well

Usherette members gather for pictures

A new addition to the many clubs in Alameda High was introduced this year—the Guitar Club. Its teacher sponsor Mr. Ronald Bertuccelli and the members all share an equal amount of interest, devotion, and appreciation of the musical instrument. It isn't necessary to be a great guitar player to join the club-beginners are welcome. Ideas and techniques of playing the guitar are exchanged by members and these exchanges were most beneficial to the beginners.

High-lighting the year for the club was a special visit from a guitar player named Junius Simmons. Mr. Simmons was a member of the San Francisco production of the musical "Hair". The guest played a few selections and the music was enjoyed by all that came.

The Usherette Club had a large membership this year due to a big membership sign up. Manager Cindy Molko and teacher sponsor Mrs. Pauline Ames offered assistance to new members that needed it.

Although under publicized, the usherettes perform a great service to Alameda High. These girls are seen at each A.H.S. function to aid people in getting to their seats in the auditorium. The All-School play, the Senior Play, and the other various functions were much improved owing to the help that the Usherette Club provides.

coin, chess clubs offer intellectual challenges

AHS offers great opportunities for those students who have hobbies. For those interested in coin collecting and the game of chess, two clubs have been established.

Entering it's second year, the Coin Club has been successful with Mr. James Cooper as faculty advisor. Rare coins are discussed and exhibited for the benefit of the club and other interested students. Trips were also planned to observe famous collections.

During lunchtime, the Chess Club meets to improve their games. Chess is not a physical endeavor but much concentration is required to be successful. Carefully planning two and three moves ahead of time is also a wise decision. Because of the shortage of time, each match is timed to assure its completion during lunch.

Mr. Dale Fredgren sponsors the chess club and arranges meets between different schools in this area. At the beginning of the year, the faculty was challenged to a match in the cafeteria.

Serving as fall president was Debra Pope, vice-president Sherry Hathaway, secretary LaLoie Emmons, treasurer Kathy Boothby, and sargeant-at-arms Tanya Tkoch. The fall officers wore uniforms of gold corduroy with a white blouse.

Carmen Beitia was voted spring president, with Julie Thelen as vice-president, secretary Michele Slater, treasurer Marsha Jackson, and sargeant-at-arms Marilyn Vicino. The spring officers decided not to wear uniforms and instead to wear buttons signifying their office.

ladies take interest in rotc

An important addition to Alameda's ROTC was made this year. Joining the boys, the girls formed a division in the company.

Alameda's ROTC Battalion is one half of The Alameda ROTC Battalion Brigade. Together with Encinal High School they form this group.

The company consists of two groups, called A and B, and a ceremonial detachment consisting of the rifle team, the drill team, and the color guard. Aiding them was the Girls' Drill team.

To familiarize the group with things they will learn in basic training they went on various field trips to practice their military maneuvers.

They participated in many events this year. Highlighting their year was marching in the 1970 Veterans Day Parade in Hayward. They performed very well in the 1970 Annual Rifle Team Invitational competition at Encinal High School. In order to participate in range firing, a field trip was organized to Fort Barry (Presidio). The St. Patricks Day Parade in San Francisco is another important event in which the ROTC performed. They also participated in the Reno Invitational Rifle Match in Reno, Nevada. The JV Drill Team won a first place trophy at the Invitational in Hayward.

Providing supervision over the ROTC was MSG (Ret) Roger B. Wallace. He was assisted by LTC (Ret) Edwin S. Harrison.

Though they failed to win their fourth consecutive ACAL title and the Hornet 35 game win streak came to an end, Alameda, with new head coach Dennis Hennessee, still took the Southern Division crown.

After winning three straight games, the Hornets were nosed out by El Cerrito 24-21. The following week the Hornets were humiliated by lowly Pacific 20-6. Next came the big wins against Berkeley, San Leandro and Kennedy to wrap up the Southern Division title. Alameda climaxed its regular season by outpointing cross town rival Encinal.

Alameda was defeated by unbeaten Richmond 28-15 in the first Thanksgiving Day championship game. Alameda played Richmond even the whole game until the last minute when Richmond broke a long pass for a TD.

Tackle Rick Copeland made all ACAL both ways while making second team all Northern California. Deep back, Dale Norton, was fourth string all Northern Cal. Mike Miller, linebacker, guard, was the second Hornet to make all ACAL both ways. Other ACAL scores are listed below.

A pass completion for long yardage is completed from quarterback Jim Martin to split end Dan Reynolds.

Alameda's junior varsity football squad, coached by Mr. Chuck Butler, went undefeated with a perfect 9-0 mark.

Due to an explosive offense and overpowering defense, the Hornets rolled over all nine opponents. It was the second undefeated season for the Alameda jv's in three years.

Turning in outstanding performances were running back Steve Chavez, who rushed for over 1,000 yards, quarterback Mark McKee, linebacker and co-captain Jim Morse, and defensive back-receiver Kevin Kearney.

Coach Tony Piazza's soph-frosh team rolled to a 3-3-2 season. Leading the Hornets were running back Todd Wilcox, center Mark Berlin, receiver Dan Reynolds, and quarterback Joe Martin. These athletes will move on to junior varsity next year and a handful of them should be promoted to the varsity.

At the annual Sports Night Dinner, all the outstanding players of the fall semester were awarded. Plaques and trophies were presented to those voted most inspirational, and team captain by its members and most valuable player.

Steve Chavez and Mark Berlin were selected as the most valuable player for jv and soph-frosh, respectively. This award is greatly sought after by all and the hard decision is left up to the coach.

Alameda Hornets, coached by Bill Thompson enjoyed another successful season winning three out of four ACAL titles. Placing first in the division were the Varsity, Soph-Frosh, and Reserves. The J.V.'s almost made it a perfect sweep but came in second one point behind El Cerrito.

Alameda had three individual first place winners. Joe Taxiera crossed the finish line in record time for the varsity. Don Kreiss did the same in the J.V. race and Jim Ortez headed the Soph-Frosh.

Seven Hornets were voted on the all ACAL teams. The first team included Joe Taxiera, Bob Immuthun, Jerry Oliver, Dale Cadwallader, and Lester Mina. Doug and Don Kreiss made the second team.

Advancing to the North Coast section one were the Varsity and Soph-Frosh teams. There the Varsity finished first and the Soph-Frosh placed second.

With numerous injuries the Hornets put together a strong effort at the North Coast championship meet placing second to a strong Mt. Diablo team.

This year's team was balanced and the talent was fairly equal, mainly winning on team performances. Yet the most outstanding runner was Joe Taxiera, who placed first in the ACAL meet, and set numerous records including the home course record.

Dale Cadwallader and Lester Mina did a fine job this year, serving as captain and co-captain.

Two Hornet teams went undefeated. The Varsity went 15-0, stretching their streak to 28 in the past two seasons, and 40 out of 41 in the past three. Continuing their streak to 34, the JV's ended the season undefeated while winning 12 straight.

Under the guidance of new head coach Rick Gamble, Alameda showed remarkable improvement over last year, finishing with an ACAL mark of 5-8, good for third place in the Southern division.

In the preseason, after winning only one of eleven games (St. Mary's 75-70), Alameda came back to take the Bishop O'Dowd Tournament. Wins over Silver Creed 67-44, St. Joseph 66-60, and St. Elizabeth 54-49 gave Alameda first place in the tournament.

In regular season, Alameda dropped their first four games before defeating Pacific 64-60. Other league wins were over DeAnza 50-24, Pacific 65-53, Encinal 56-55, and San Leandro 61-53. Against top-ranked Kennedy the Hornets played well only to lose by a score of 66-62.

Hornet center Stan Boyer made first team all-ACAL while forwards Mike Bordner and Wayne Keddy made honorable mention. These three players composed an excellent front line.

Greg Cockayne and Don Albright started at guards. Mark McKee, Dale Norton, and Willie Thomas were always coming off the bench at the guard spots. Rick Copeland, Larry Haun, and Gary Greenwood played at the forward spots.

Alameda's junior varsity basketball squad finished with a ACAL record of 8-5 and an over-all record of 13-11.

In the preseason the Hornets pulled upset wins over Bishop O'Dowd 40-38, St. Elizabeth 36-30, and St. Joseph 51-42.

In ACAL play, Alameda beat previously undefeated Berkeley 70-60 in the season finale. Encinal fell twice by scores of 39-30 and 60-34. They also defeated San Leandro 45-44 and 57-45. Other highlights were wins over DeAnza, Pinole Valley, and El Cerrito.

Alameda had a strong starting lineup and fine depth to back them up. Kevin Kearney and John McKee started for most the year at guards. John Duncan was the third guard. All three are aggressive players who are fine outside shooters. Mark McKee started for half of the season until he was moved up to varsity.

Wayne Iboralle, Jerry Delozier, Russ Goodman, and Duncan started at the forward and center positions. Ed Hagen also saw action at center.

Coach Marvin 'Stretch' Pearson's soph-frosh squad finished with a league record of 4-9. They also finished third in the Berkeley Tournament. Dave French, Bob Rhodes, and Mike Norton were outstanding throughout the year.

One of the highlights of the spring sports program was the Alameda High School Swim Team.

It was the first meet of the season for Alameda that marked the return of Coach Ashley Jones after an absence of two years from the helm.

Coach Ash Jones' swim team appeared to have a fairly good year for capturing the ACAL Crown and hoped to finish high in the Northern California Relays.

Alameda's toughest opponents were San Leandro, El Cerrito, Miramonte, and Acalanes

Aside from Alameda's swim team Alameda also consisted of a very good diving team which also participated in North Coast. Members consisted of Ray Pacovsky, Mark Caldwell, Dennis Eichelberger, all returning Juniors. Also another diver was Bob Giomi a graduating senior.

Jim Barry and Bill Sibbett who were four year veterans, served as captains for their teammates. Their main duty is to instill a strong spirit, and boost the morale of the squad.

Returning were, Ed Blom, Dick Glazier, Dean Nelson, Steve Kieffer, Mark Caldwell, and Dennis Eichelberger. Seniors were, Gary Ladd, Allan Massingill, Jim Barry, Scott Baxter, Bill Sibbett, Paul Higby, Jim Glazier, Alan Mitchell and Brad Seely.

hornets seek play-off berth

At deadline time, Alameda's varsity baseball squad had an outside chance of making the playoffs.

Coach Leroy Bernadou felt that the team strengths were a good defensive infield with fine depth and good team speed. Besides Bill Toci and Gabe Pena, it was questionable who the other pitchers would be. John Logan was the best bet at press time.

Kevin Kearney, started at first base, while Greg Peterson handled the second base chores. Rick Wooten, a strong defensive player has the shortstop position all to himself. At third base was Junior Jim Morse.

Depth in the outfield was the problem. Steve Chavez, Mike Bordner, John Tudal, Jeff White, and Bill Elzig, shared the three positions. Mark McKee handled the catching job.

San Leandro was the favored team to win in the ACAL Southern Division. In the running for second place and a shot in the playoffs was, Berkeley, Encinal, and Alameda.

Alameda's junior varsity baseball squad, coached by Rick Gamble, had another successful season.

As of press time, Gamble announced that his starting lineup will be as follows: Russ Sabatini (rf), Dan Sanchez (ss), Steve Sorenson (cf), Dan Pereira (3b), Mike MacKenzie (1f), Mickey Apodaca (2b), Doug Ratto (1b), and Joe Damele (c). John Duncan will alternate at first with Greg Nielson and Mark Bryant with chances to see a lot of action.

Alameda's weakness is depth on the mound. Only John Duncan and Steve Sorenson are listed as pitchers. Two pitchers won't be enough to carry the team for the entire season.

Team strengths are the speed of Sanchez, Sorenson, and Sabatini and the strong hitting of Sorenson, Periera, and Duncan.

It is hoped that this year's team will be able to mature because they will become the bulk of next year's team.

At press time the Hornets were in second place with a 5-2 league record.

Coached by Bill Thompson, the varsity track is hoping to be one of the better steams in the league with a chance to pull some upsets over the ACAL powerhouse.

In recent years, the Hornets finished with records around 500, but this year it is hoped that they will be better. The team to beat in their division is Berkeley but Alameda has an excellent shot at finishing second Alameda is particularly strong in the long distance departments. Bob Immethun, Don Kreiss, Sam Ivey, Lester Mina, Pat Ortez, and Jerry Oliver, just to name a few are excellent runners.

In the sprints, Jim Milne and Randy Crawford head up the list. Pole-vaulter Rod Dosher at press time had set a new school record of 13' 3½". Before the year is over, Rod could go over 14 feet. Wayne Keddy is outstanding in the high jump and low hurdles. Weightmen George Kysor, Scott Shelby, and Ken Kruichek head up a fine squad.

b track builds future stars

Alameda's B track team lost their first two meets to DeAnza 91-47 and Pinole Valley 72 ½ - 63 2/3

Coached by Bill Thompson, the B team is used mainly to train athletes for the varsity next year. Many good B's have moved up to varsity for the league meets but will be back to B's for the ACAL Finals.

Outstanding performers include miler Jim Ortez, Barry Smith in the two mile, Todd Wilcox in the 100, 220, and long jump, Chris Pierce in the pole vault, Pete Ryan in the 440 and 880, Bruce Van Popering in the 880, shotputter Don Strang, and miler Bruce Hudkins.

Ortez and Hudkins have broken five minutes in the mile and Don Strang has broken 40 feet with the 12 pound shotput as a freshman. Chris Pierce, a junior, has pole vaulted 10'6". Alameda has always been strong in the pole vault and Pierce should fit well into the Hornet's reputation.

Most of the athletes are sophomores and freshmen. It doesn't matter if the B's win or lose, it is important that everyone improves on their performances

Alameda's golf team, coached by Marvin 'Stretch' Pearson, won their third consecutive ACAL championship during the 1971 season. This year, the Hornets breezed through the ACAL undefeated and ended up one of the top teams in Northern California.

Numerous players alternated for the six starting jobs. There were about fifteen players on the squad.

Encinal and San Leandro gave the Hornets the most trouble but Alameda successfully defended their title.

Battling for the starting jobs were Mark Merrigan, Greg Schwietzer, Tony Corica, John Funk, Paul Weir, David May, Jerry Cannon, and Mike Powell.

In May, the Hornets were in the Northern California finals. Alameda, because of their depth and quality, have the opportunity to finish higher than sixth in Northern California.

Alameda's tennis team hoped that this would be the year they would take the ACAL after years of being in the top three.

In recent years, Alameda has always been tough but have lost out to Berkeley and San Leandro.

This year Berkeley was the team to beat. In their first match of the year against the Hornets, the Jackets scored a 6-1 win. Early in the year, the Hornets won over St. Mary's College 5-3 and Encinal 7-0.

Top singles men were Dave Lucky, Tom Jones, Ron Lucky, Greg Dix, and Kevin Lanzit. Alternating for doubles were Robert Lack, Larry Kiesler, Rick Hessom, Greg Cockayne, and John Mullen.

Dix, Lucky, Jones, and Hessom are all fine individual performers but the team needed more depth.

Practice that backstroke girls!

This year, the girls' swim team rewrote the record book with 14 out of 19 records being broken. Beaten only by Encinal High School by one point, the girls did compile an impressive record.

The girls swim team won over San Leandro, Carlmont (Palo Alto), San Ramon, and Pinole Valley by wide margins. Great performances were established by Roxie Dickerson who broke the backstroke record for 25 yards at 16.3, Patsy Treadwell who broke the 50 backstroke at 31.6, and 100 backstroke at 1:09.1, Jody Beldon who broke 50 breaststroke at 36.1, Laura Nelson who broke the 100 breaststroke at 1:19.8, Cathy Payne who broke the 25 butterfly at 15.1, Kaylou Britton who broke the 100 butterfly at 1:08.0 and the 100 freestyle at 1:00.4, Rene Dickerson who broke the 25 freestyle at 13.4, and Betty Murray who broke the 100 individual medley.

Alameda promises to remain strong as only three varsity swimmers graduate this year-Roxie Dickerson, Patsy Treadwell, and Karen Fee.

1971 marked Alameda's first year in competition in girl's gymnastics

Alameda's first meet was against Encinal. The Hornets took 36 of 46 places in a rather impressive victory. Lynn Thomson took first all-around beginner while Judy Broughon and Marilyn Eichelberger took second and third respectively.

Fourteen of Alameda's girls qualified to go on to the South Semifinal Compulsory Meet in Merlo Park. Alameda took eleventh place out of 36 schools.

Betty Ryder took fifth place on the balance beam. Five girls qualified to go on to the South Sectional Optional in Fremont. Betty Ryder, Lynn Thomson, Marilyn Eichelberger, Judy Broughton, and Karen Healy qualified, along with alternates Linda King, Diane Echeguren, and Vicki Johnson.

At the deadline, it appeared like Alameda, coached by Carol Clymo, was on to a successful season in their opening year.

Highlighting the year was the memorable Junior Prom "Midsummer Nights Dream". The prom was held on February 26, in the Alameda Hotel ballroom.

David Young, spring vice-president

Ruthan Seabock, spring yell-leader

Laura Nelson, fall vice-president

Allison Kapson, spring recording secretary and Carol Molnar, financial secretary

Gordon Olson, spring president

Special acknowledgement was given to the class of "74". They are the centennial class

A big task is set ahead for the freshman class and leading them on to success are their elected officers.

It takes a lot of team work and originality to unite a class and keep them united for their remaining years ahead
